NAME COMMITTEES FOR ORGANIZATION OF TOBACCO POOL

adopted by the meeting, the state is divided into four districts. The first is composed of Dane, Rock, Green, Jefferson and Columbia counties having about 32,000 acres of tobacco land. Each district will have seven directors on the boards.

Henry H. Bliss, Janesville, was named on the publicity committee and Hugh C. Koenigsway, chairman of the southern district.

Preparing Contracts.

Thorough organization is planned before the pool contracts are circulated. The contracts are similar to those drafted by Aaron Sapiro who has had spectacular success in the east and south with tobacco pools.

Four committees have been named for organization, finance, publicity, and warehouses. The organization committee will meet again in Madison on Monday to perfect the plan of a whirlwind campaign when the contracts will be offered. Once the state pool officers collect 75 percent or more of the acreage they will control the tobacco market from 4 to 13 cents a pound on the 1921 crop, which sold in Rock county for between five and seven cents.

Physicians say there are physiological facts to support both contentions and attorneys agree that a legal analysis of the bodies.

Decision concerning disposition of the bodies has been deferred pending word from the father in Cache, Slovakia. If the father does not desire to have the bodies returned to the homeland, the brother says he is willing that some local university be given an opportunity to make an examination.

Many an otherwise good man enjoys seeing the other fellow get the worst of it.

SON OF ONE TWIN OR BOTH? ESTATE HANGS ON ANSWER

Chicago.—The death of Rosa and Josefa Blazek, the "Siamese twins," has left the Cook county probate court with a legal problem apparently unprecedented. In determining the disposition of the $100,000 estate of the twins, the court must decide if 11 year old Franz is the son of one or both of the twins.

A scientific controversy has resolved itself into the question: "Were Rosa and Josefa Blazek one individual personality or did they constitute separate entities?"

If they were one personality, the son will inherit the entire fortune accumulated by the twins during exhibition tours. If they were two distinct personalities, Rosa being the mother and Josefa the aunt, only Rosa's half of the estate would go to the lad.

Physicians say there are physiological facts to support both contentions and attorneys agree that a legal analysis of the bodies.

Craig, president of the newly formed Holstein Breeder's association of Rock county.

The calves will be given the calves through this method. For the first time in the history of calf club work in Rock county, the parents of the boys and girls in the Holstein club will not be required to put their names on the notes to assure payment. It is believed by Mr. Craig that this will be for the benefit of the children as they will take more interest in their project when they know that it is theirs solely, and upon their work only depends its success.

A 25 per cent discount from the appraised value is to be allowed the calf purchasers.

INTEREST HIGH IN BIRD-HOUSE ARRAY

Many See Unique Exposition In Gazette Contest—Judging Begins.

With the last bird-houses having come in Friday morning, the Bird-House exhibit, conducted by the Gazette at the Sheldon Hardware store on South Main street, is attracting a great deal of attention. The houses, mostly 40 in all, have been tagged and placed in the window and on tables behind the window, where all can be seen to advantage. The school-children are especially interested, and are in groups in the store and on the sidewalk, and showing what each different one made, while the grown-ups are also attracted by the bright colored display.

A. J. Wilcox, J. H. McVicar and J. M. Dorrans will start judging the houses Friday afternoon. Not only the beauty of the house, but its practicability, will be considered and a beautiful house, with holes too small or too large, will be marked on the house, will be out of the race.

A great deal of work is represented in the houses seen there, but the winner of the grand sweepstakes of $100.00 will be amply repaid. A great many other prizes are offered. For city exhibitors there will be three prizes of $5.00 and $2.50. There will be the same for the rural exhibitors, and ten special honor prizes of $1 each will be awarded. There are two prizes for girls, and but two houses entered by girls. These prizes are $2.50 and $1.50.

The exhibit will continue through Saturday night, by which time all the awards will have been made. Boys and girls are to call at the store for their houses some time Monday. Many are to be made, and the price has been marked on the tag.

Lectures to Public by Wireless Telephone Are Proposed.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison—Education of middle-western people by wireless telephone is to be undertaken by the University of Wisconsin through its extension department, officials announced Friday.
Each day 10 minute talks on subjects of general interest will be delivered by university professors to persons within the radius of the University wireless telephone sending station.
These lectures are to be supplemented by Tuesday evening wireless classes, which will be delivered by musical selections. A special course in musical appreciation is to be given by Prof. E. D. Gordon, of the extension department on Friday nights.
President E. A. Birge of the University has named a committee representing all branches of university work to plan programs of instruction and entertainment.
"There is no reason why radio-telephone receiving sets should not be used just as motion picture machines are used in the schools for instruction," Prof. W. H. Lighty, chairman of the committee declared. "We plan to extend our instruction work rapidly."

Police Arrest Lawrence; Ends Lengthy Search
Believed to be wanted in at least two cities on various charges, Thomas Lawrence, former restaurant owner here, was arrested by police here Thursday night ending a search of more than six months. Lawrence is said to be wanted at Baraboo for cashing a worthless check last June and at Ellettsville, Ind. for an $80 embezzlement in August. He was arrested on a warrant from La Porte, Ind., charging him with grand larceny but inquiry there by Chief Newman developed that he is not wanted as he has made settlement. Telegrams have been sent to police in Baraboo and Ellettsville. The La Porte warrant, issued June 28, 1921, has been at the police station here ever since but Thursday was the first day he was seen here. Lawrence is being held at the county jail under bail of $1,000 with his hearing set for Apr. 11.

Speaking at the Rock County Teachers' Training school Thursday on "Communicable Diseases," Dr. V. A. Gudux, epidemiologist of the state board of health, pointed out the importance of keeping down the number of deaths from disease.
He urged all teachers to become familiar with the state laws on sanitation and especially the one which says children must be sent home when they have a severe cough, severe cold, or obviously ill.
"Hundreds of deaths have occurred because children were not excluded from school during the first stages of the disease," Dr. Gudux said. "The health of the children is the foundation on which to build our education and our civic and social progress."

Farm Bureau Official Information News for Farmers

OFFICERS CHOSEN FOR SPRAY RINGS

Two in Northern Part of County and One East of City, Elected.

Organization of three more spraying rings in Rock county has been completed with the election of officers this week of the Bradford, Evansville and Center-Magnolia associations. There are hundreds of fruit trees in the vicinity of the fruit rings and these clubs have been organized because of the large number of people who have become interested in the spray rings, success of spraying work in Rock county, now seems assured.

At a meeting of the Bradford spray ring No. 1, W. J. Funk was elected president; Jennie Rata, vice president; W. J. Florin, secretary-treasurer; and George Irish, manager. A bean power sprayer has been ordered from Lansing, Mich. and as soon as it arrives the manager will begin putting the dormant spray on the trees belonging to the members of the ring.

A bean power sprayer and enough lime sulphur and arsenate of lead to supply the ring has been ordered.

W. G. Fetterman has been elected president of the Evansville spray ring No. 1; E. A. Knappe, vice president and Stanley Procy, secretary-treasurer. Some of the members of the ring around Evansville have large orchards and it is hoped that enough perfect fruit will be produced to supply all home needs around Evansville.

Radio News Service by the Farm Bureau

A daily radio agricultural news service has been established through the efforts of the American Farm Bureau Federation which will function for the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Live Stock Producers' Association and the U. S. Grain Growers' Inc. Each evening at 6:30 agricultural and market news from these organizations and from the industry in general will be broadcast to rural communities from the Westinghouse dispatching station in Chicago.

Receiving sets are already being used by many county Farm Bureau organizations; co-operative shipping associations and co-operative elevators are using receivers to get the latest market developments and more individual farmers are installing the equipment.

It has been recommended that the Secretary of Commerce be given adequate legal authority for the effective control of the establishment of all radio transmitting stations except amateur, experimental and government stations and of the operation of non-governmental radio transmitting stations on the grounds that radio communication is a public utility, and as such should be regulated and controlled by the Federal Government and public interests.

"We wish to serve farmers as the stock tickers serve the brokers," says Fred L. Petty, who is the new editor of the service, "and in addition to general agricultural news we will give news of the marketing centers and the latest developments of interest to rural communities."

RESEARCH RESULTS FOR BETTER FARMS

Modern Study of Farm Problems Is Both Production and Distribution.

That the agriculture of tomorrow will have to depend more upon science and utilize more of its findings, is the prediction of H. L. Russell, chief of the agricultural staff of the University of Wisconsin.

Russell believes that farming to be profitable must more than ever utilize all practical measures to cut not only cost of production but costs of distribution as well.

From his experience as the director of Wisconsin's station and as an executive of the American Association of Agricultural Experiment Stations, he has come to the conclusion that never were the results of agricultural experimentation more needed than they are in these days of readjustment and never was there a greater obligation resting upon these institutions so to order their activities as to utilize most effectively the means at their disposal for the purpose of serving whom they were designed to serve.

Aids to Agriculture

That just passed has been one of the most successful years in the history of the Wisconsin station. For more than three decades contributions of inestimable value to the agriculture of the nation have been made by Wisconsin investigators. Starting with the Babcock test, invented by Dr. S. M. Babcock, Badger station workers have made an enviable record of achievement. The dairy industry alone is indebted to Wisconsin men for eight of the nine dairy tests in use today. Dr. Babcock's test for butter fat, Dr. E. H. Farrington for the alkaline tablets, the sediment test, and the butter moisture test; G. M. Blomkendorf for this moisture and ice cream overrun tests; E. B. Hart for the curd determination; S. M. Babcock, H. L. Russell and J. W. Decker for the curd test; and W. D. Frost for his "little plate" germ test.

Wisconsin scientists were leaders in the development of disease resistant plants. Under the direction of L. R. Jones many important and far-reaching selections and discoveries have been made.

For the selection and breeding of pure bred grains, Wisconsin farmers owe much to R. A. Biscoe and his associates. In all kinds of agricultural promotion the Badger institution has long ranked in a high position. Each year has seen the making of contributions from Wisconsin's experiment station.

Diagnose Cattle Madly

One of the outstanding pieces of investigational work carried on at the Wisconsin Experiment Station during 1921 was that conducted on the disease known as "mad cow" or "bovine spongiform encephalitis" and yearly causing more or less loss to the farmers in the dairy sections of the nation. D. A. Beach and E. G. Hastings of the station made the first diagnosis of this disease under practical conditions this new method which was first devised in England for the detection of that insidious disease.

"John's disease," says Dean Russell, "is one of those subtle afflictions that have been introduced from Europe, and has already been found in a number of herds in this state, where the owners were quite oblivious to the fact. The physical symptoms of the disease are so uncertain in the earlier stages that a veterinarian ordinarily can not detect it by the customary diagnostic measures. The animal wastes away gradually, becoming less and less efficient as a milk producer, and is either disposed of as unprofitable or dies on the hands of the owner. The characteristic symptoms which enable this disease to be distinguished from bovine tuberculosis are to be found upon an examination of the brain and spinal cord. In this disease show a very much wrinkled condition."

Beach and Hastings have had under examination a number of cases of this disease and the disease has already appeared, and through the use of this new diagnostic method, known as John's, it has been possible for them to purchase and examine animals reacting to this test in a manner similar to that which is done by the use of tuberculin in controlling bovine tuberculosis.

"It is most important that our farmers become thoroughly acquainted with the possible dangers that confront us in the dairy industry, and the purchase of animals in the incipient stages of this disease is probably the main means whereby it is disseminated from herd to herd."

Yellow Corn or White

A new angle on the feeding of hogs has been uncovered by an extended series of experiments on a comparison of the feeding value of yellow and white corn. Harry Stenbeck and E. L. Moore, assistant director of the Experiment Station, have demonstrated that yellow corn is superior to white corn for the feeding of hogs not as to nutrition. They maintain that the yellow pigment contains vitamins necessary for rapid growth in pork production and that these vitamins are not present in white corn. The yellow corn is found to be properly growing animals. When hogs are on pasture, they secure their vitamins from their grazing and consequently all grow normally. Fed white corn while on pasture.

"So far as is now known," says Mr. Morrison on this subject, "white corn is just as good as yellow for hogs, dairy cattle, beef cattle, and sheep, if they are fed ordinary well-balanced rations including plenty of green-colored hay. Preliminary experiments by the poultry department indicate that yellow corn is apparently superior to white for chickens which do not receive in summer plenty of fresh green food or in winter a substantial amount of alfalfa chaff, or similar green stuff."

Plant Diseases Studied

Plant pathologists at the experiment station have continued their valuable contributions on the relation of temperature and moisture to plant diseases.

Co-operating with cabbage growers in the eastern part of the state, scientists in the plant pathology department have developed a strain of kraut cabbage that is resistant to the "yellows." A strain of "yellows," resistant cabbage had previously been selected, but the demand for "yellow-proof" kraut cabbage became so urgent from the commercial growers' viewpoint that scientists turned their efforts in this direction, with the result that a resistant strain of kraut cabbage is now available.

"I'VE TOLD FULLY A HUNDRED LOCAL FOLK ABOUT TRUTONA," PROMINENT RESIDENT AVERS

Personal Endorsements, Such As Above, Have Sold Thousands of Bottles of Trutona in Janesville.

"I've recommended Trutona to fully a hundred local people because it built me up in health after all other treatments and remedies had failed," says Robert Ahris, prominent and respected Janesville man of 463 North Terrace street.

"Five months ago, when I began using Trutona," he continued, "I was suffering from indigestion and a general breakdown in health. I used three bottles of this medicine and haven't taken any for the past two months because I feel normal with my relief doesn't half express it. I can hardly say too much for this great medicine. I feel 100 per cent improved now. I walk down town whenever I feel like it nowadays and without the least effort. Trutona gave me relief after everything else I'd tried had failed."

Personal recommendations, such as Mr. Ahris declares he has made to a hundred local people, has been responsible for the sale of thousands of bottles of Trutona in Janesville. And why do so many local people take the interest and become so enthusiastic over Trutona more than many other remedies on the market today? Because Trutona has brought to them relief of the kind they had never before experienced and in many cases had not even hoped for. Trutona will do for YOU just what it has done for hundreds in Janesville. Buy a bottle of this famous tonic TODAY in Janesville at the PEOPLE'S Drug Store; Evansville, Pioneer Drug Store; Edgerton, Atwell-Dallman's; and in surrounding towns at all good druggists.

RAIL MEN, HERE ON TOUR, OPTIMISTIC

Business Reported Picking up Gradually in All Sections.

Freight and passenger business upon the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway is picking up according to George D. Haynes, general passenger agent, and T. W. Proctor, general freight agent, who visited Janesville Thursday.

"While the passenger business is coming back so rapidly as the freight," stated Mr. Haynes in an interview, "we have put two extra coaches on the Pioneer Limited from Milwaukee to Chicago, and also on the Olympian, which shows improvement. The boys here in Janesville tell me their business equals that of a year ago, which is good."

Can't Guess Strike's Length. "Of course there is this to consider—when the roads are bad the passenger business picks up. That is something with which we must contend. The automobile is a serious competitor, but I think it will all come out in the wash."

Commenting upon the national coal strike, starting Saturday, he declared it is anyone's guess how long it may continue. "It may go 30 days, 60 days or more," he asserted. "It is hard to tell. Our line is well taken care of, for we have stored coal in preparation. I think we will be able to get sufficient coal to tide us over from the non-union mines of Kentucky and West Virginia."

Freight Rates High. During conference at the Chamber of Commerce with local business men, Mr. Proctor remarked freight rates are too high, but the roads see no way out of it. He stated it is an interstate commerce commission matter, and the railroad earnings but 40 per cent of their overhead, due largely to high wages and the failure of the present semi-government control to make positive each employee works a full eight hours.

The proposition of cut-rate commuter passenger tickets between Janesville and Milwaukee was taken up with Mr. Haynes, who promised to study it.

As to freight movement, Mr. Haynes said he has reports showing business gradually picking up in all sections. In some commodities he stated it exceeds that of a year ago.

Freight Hauler Here. Mr. Proctor commented upon the increasing freight traffic. When it comes to the coal strike, he told his listeners, he believes it will last approximately 90 days.

The officials departed at 6:30 Thursday night in their private car for Madison. In the party were Grant Williams, division freight agent, Chicago, native of Janesville; E. G. Hayden, general agent passenger department, Milwaukee; and W. W. Winston, division passenger agent, Madison.

WINNERS TO PLAY BELOIT VICTORS EARLY IN APRIL

FRIDAY NIGHT GAMES

A similar tournament will be held at Beloit April 8 with squads from Grant and Lafayette counties competing. The R. F. Ds. of this city start their battles Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Methodist A. C. Beloit.

Semi-finals will take place at 3 p. m. and 5 p. m. Saturday. The finals will come at 3 p. m. and 5 p. m. on Sunday. The money will be used to defray expenses of the tourney.

Paul G. Edwards, coach of the Evansville champion high school team, will referee.

A charge of 25 cents will be made for admission to the games. The money will be used to defray expenses of the tourney.

Shurtleffs Take Fourth in Pin Tourney Here

The Shurtleff Ice Cream company from the City league started out in good form. Their first game counted 500 pins and they looked like winners but the next two games put them out of the money. Their total was 2633 which puts them in fourth place for a few days. Ken Jeffers carried the lead, getting 573 with high game.

The two Kewanee teams had a merry battle. Rex Jacobs' team bowed in defeat to Hank Solomon's outfit who rolled 2247. Rex's team took a firm hold on the bottom of the list with 1922. Arnold Puget gave an exhibition worthy of note. His first game was 135-but he was only fooling. When he got down to work, he smashed out totals of 92 and 98, giving him a grand average of 108 1-3.

As a bowler, Arnold is a fine plumb. Ole Skavlem had a little difficulty at first keeping the ball in the house, but finally managed to kick over 334 in his third game.

Busy Man's Sport Page

BY FRANK SINGLARI
Kenosha strongly favors the formation of a second high school athletic league similar to the one now being undertaken by schools of this part of the state. Besides reprinting what the Gazette had to say of last Saturday's meeting at Milton college, the "News" of that city again names Deloit, Racine, Watrous, Wauwatosa, Sheboygan, Kenosha and Janesville as possible members, ending with "Come on, Kenosha, let's go!"

Something has certainly been started. Now along comes Green Bay with this "it isn't a half bad idea because it tends to increase the interest in sport. We wonder what has become of the proposed scholastic athletic union which was talked of in the Fox River valley last fall?"

"Roundy," Madison sport scribe, beams the fact the poor boy has to make money on the side to pay his way through school and, therefore, should be permitted to enlist his athletic talent to earn it. He says: "They want the boy to work for $20 a week and starve to death so he can go to college and play for the honor of the school." The weakness in the argument is there are many other methods of earning a university education—perhaps requiring a little harder work.

Says an article from a paper in the City of Brotherly Love: "In the movement for a 'better Philadelphia' it seems most important the city should concentrate at this time, on better athletic equipment for the high schools, thereby producing manlier and more solid citizens for the future."

Lafin and McLaughlin of the Beloit college basketball squad have been placed upon the All-State mythical team, the latter being named captain. McGaw of the Gold is put upon the second quintet along with Winkler, etc. The selection seems to forget McGaw was the constant star for Beloit. The first team is: Lafin, Beloit, and Ringdahl, Ripon, forwards; McLaughlin, center; Schneider, Ripon, and Smith, Lawrence, guards.

Commissioner Landis wishes the Indians "fifty percent of the breaks." Commenting on it Jack Keane writes: "Solomon never pulled a better record. There is a sermon in it for one type of a ball player—the type that is always asking for and expecting all the breaks and complaining bitterly when he isn't getting them."

"Prep" League Will Take in 9 Nearby High Schools

Official invitation to Janesville High school to become a member of the "prep" athletic conference now in formation in this part of the state, was extended by Coach Grandall of Milton college Thursday through the Gazette. The action followed a telephone vote by the eight schools in the lower city institution to join them in organizing the league.

Informed of the action, Principal George Dafford of the local school declared a meeting would be held Friday with the coaches here. Announcement is to be made immediately following.

Latest developments would make the conference one of nine teams if Janesville joins, eight otherwise. They are Edgerton, Evansville, Milton Union, Jefferson, Fort Atkinson, Lake Mills, Whitewater city and Stoughton.

First official communication of the league will be sent out by Coach Grandall Saturday. It will be in the form of tentative articles of formation, a questionnaire of suggested plans and proceedings of last Saturday's meeting in the Milton college gymnasium. Schools will vote upon these, making their corrections and changes. From them a constitution will be drawn up and approval vote taken by mail. Upon acceptance of the constitution, a chairman, vice chairman and secretary-treasurer would automatically be elected according to alphabetical arrangement of the schools in the conference. The officers will revolve downward each year.

The schools coming in on the league as now planned would be charter members.

MARANVILLE MAY BE SWITCHED TO SECOND, REPORT

From Hot Springs comes the rumor that Rabbit Maranville, veteran shortstop and considered one of the best shortfield men the game has produced, may be displaced at that position this year by a younger gent, one "Pie" Traynor. The rumor goes that the Pirate bosses have decided that Traynor's brilliant playing last year and the fact that he is a youngster still coming up outweigh Maranville's call on the job. The Rabbit would go to second.

TROLLEY MEN BEAT ROCKFORD KNIGHTS

For the second time in as many weeks, the Janesville Traction company showed the Rockford Traction keepers that while the latter live in a Forest city they haven't yet learned to cut down the tall timber. With Jimmy Kling showing the way, the Bower city boys had Rockford as their guests at Beloit Thursday night and showed them a few tricks in the gentle art of pushing a pill down the long drives and scattering the wood into the pit.

Janesville took two out of three games. They also had high total. Rockford used its best King Pins to no avail.

The Janesville scores were 709-844-669-2282. Rockford had 759-741-733-2235.

Local Dogs Win Ribbons

Two blue ribbons and a first were captured by Mrs. George Hilgendorf, 8 South Jackson street, with her dogs at the 21st annual bench show of the Chicago Kennel club Thursday.

A total of 618 entries for the show made it the largest in history. Yankee Beauty captured first in her class. Bingo Boy, making his first appearance, took a first. King Beauty came through with a second.

The dogs are Boston bull terriers. Mr. Hilgendorf went to Chicago Friday to join his wife. These awards made a long list for the Hilgendorf kennels.

Washington.—“Run for office.” That’s the advice of Miss Alice Robertson, Oklahoma congresswoman, to women of the country.

“Drop bridge, take off your kid gloves and help put affairs right or forever hold your peace.” That’s the second piece of Miss Robertson’s advice.

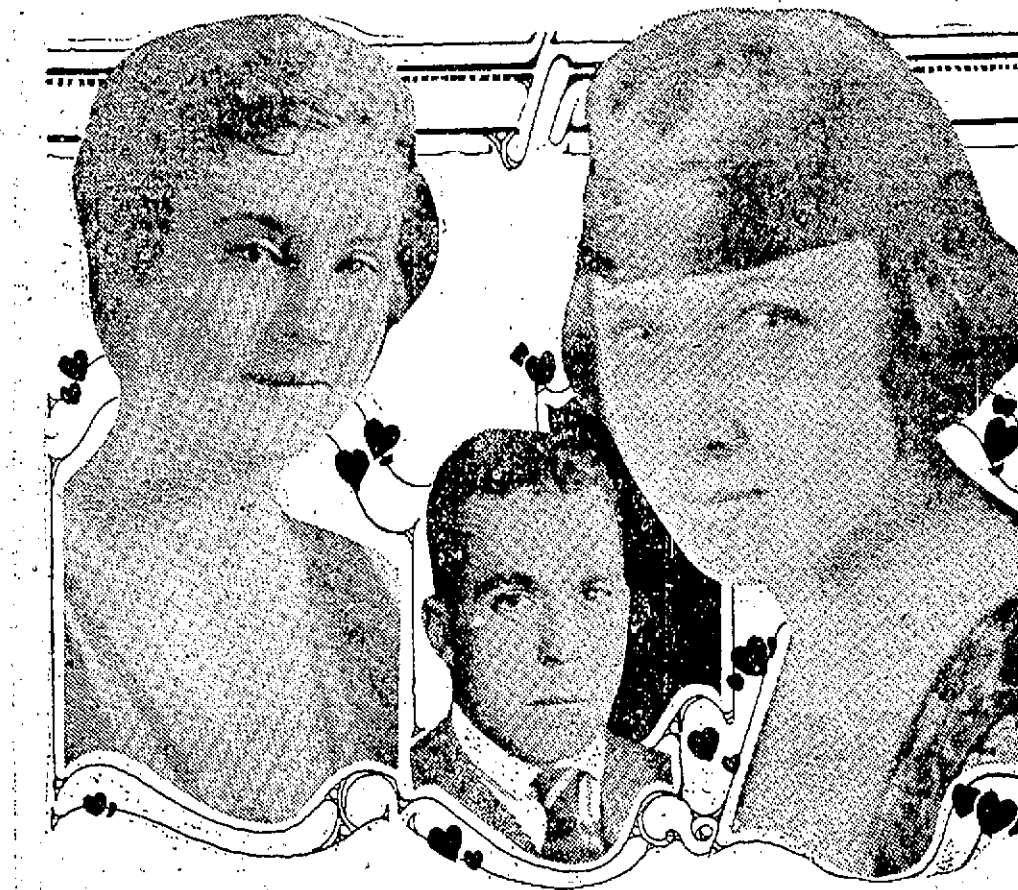

“Miss Robertson, or ‘Oklahoma Alice’ as she is more familiarly known, suggests that such prominent suffrage leaders as Carrie Chapman Catt, Maude Wood Park and Harriet Taylor Upton run for congress and put over the reforms they have been demanding so long.

“With Mary Garrett Hay they have been active in politics for a long time,” said Miss Robertson. “Why don’t they run for some office?”

“It’s up to them to put a little pep in politics this year. They have equal suffrage now. It’s about time they used it.”

Two Legal Wives Fail to Bring Happiness to Ohio Millionaire

Youngstown, O.—Thomas Wells, Jr., millionaire, is the only man in the United States with two legal wives.

Does Tom want another? It does not.

You see, it’s like this: Some twelve years ago, after a party, Tom Wells, who had just dropped into his millions, was passing through the lobby of one of the New York theaters, when a marvellously attractive little blonde smiled at him and said, “Hello, Tom!”

The blonde was a manicurist in New York, but known back in her old home town of Youngstown as Stasia Welch, the “most beautiful girl in town,” winner of many beauty contests. So she knew Tom and his millions, for Tom was from Youngstown, too.

They were married. But they didn’t live happily ever after. The little manicurist learned to spend as much as $500 on a stocking bill and get her gowns from Paris.

The young millionaire built a beautiful castle and he called it “Stashbrook.” Mrs. Wells entertained her New York friends there.

Wells marched away to war—and says he was forgotten by the beautiful girl who remained in New York. After a bit the young millionaire came back from France, sickened of wine parties and dances. He wanted to lead the simple life. She refused, he says, so he got a divorce and his buddies from every state in the union were brought to testify either for or against him in a trial attended by millions.

Eight days after he got his divorce he was married to Marian Povie in the little church around the corner in New York. Marian Povie was the Red Cross nurse who nursed him back to health when he returned sick of war—sick of drunken orgies and dancing girls, dying men—and army camps.

But the little manicurist could not get along on the $300 a month allowance she was given, so went back into court and the court of appeals reversed the decision—leaving Tom with two legal wives. Marian, his legal wife, anywhere but Ohio—and Stasia, his legal wife

Closest to the People

The Citizens’ Committee has advanced a number of excuses but not a single valid reason as to why Janesville should not adopt the Manager plan of government.

We quote the following statement: “We know of no successful business in which the management is turned over to a stranger who has no interest in the business other than his salary.”

To give an illustration that will prove that the statement is not correct, and one that the Chairman of the Citizens’ Committee was interested in: Not many years since the Janesville Machine Company had not kept abreast of the times, and was badly in need of a new system of management. They hired a new, active, expert superintendent at a good salary for those times. He junked a large part of the machinery, established a cost system, also a checking in and out of the employees, in short he scrapped the old plant and its system and substituted an up-to-date plant in its place. Because of the new superintendent’s ability he was called to another large plant at a much increased salary.

Note another leading statement: “Some of those in favor of City Management Plan are trying to hide the real issue of the election by criticism of the present officials.”

The leaders of the Manager movement are not wasting any time throwing clubs at the present council. Many of the councilmen are doing the best they can under the present system. (If it may be called a system.) With the perpetual perplexities that attend their never ending duties and the little time they have to devote to the city’s business because of their own business, with their lack of skill and expert knowledge necessary to make a success of the city’s business, it is not to be wondered at that the present system is a failure.

Efforts are being made to blind the people to the City Manager plan by falsehoods.

The report has been circulated assiduously that the city manager is to enforce or make a lot of blue laws. That is untrue. The city manager has nothing to do with making blue laws. All laws are made under the plan by the city council.

One thing to remember: If you want anything now you have about 40 men to ask, while under City Management there is one man.

It behooves every citizen to go to the polls Tuesday next and vote for the clean, business-like government plan. Here is the ticket. See that the X is after the yes.

Shall the City of Janesville be reorganized under Chapter 64 of the Statutes (Chapter 75 and 353 of the Laws of 1919) providing for the City Manager Plan, with a Council composed of seven members, to be elected from the City at large and for the terms of two years, each to serve without compensation?

Yes ☒ No ☐

If you desire to vote for the adoption of the City Manager Plan make a cross (X) or other mark in the square after the word “yes” underneath such question; if you desire to vote against the adoption of the City Manager Plan make a cross (X) or other mark in the square after the word “No,” underneath such question.

SHERIFF ARRESTS ACTRESS' CAREER: TO JAIL HER? NOT MUCH! TO WED HER

Mrs. Sheriff Big Bill Hutton.

Sheriff "Big Bill" Hutton, the two-gun law enforcer of Pulaski county, Arkansas, has just completed his longest chase and made his most important capture—that is to Bill. He "arrested" Miss Irene Galvin, actress, in Los Angeles and straightaway both accepted a life sentence from a parson in hot appeal. Hutton decided to make Miss Galvin his wife when he saw her play in Little Rock and his two-year pursuit followed.

Blind for Six Years, David Watt Now Busy Seeing City's Sights

BY DAVID W. WATT
As many of the readers of the Gazette are aware that my side-lights were turned off some six years ago, they may be interested in knowing how the world looks to one who has just been released from the "blind" group and able to see the many changes that have taken place since 1916.

While I have endeavored the United States a half-dozen times or more, and visited nearly all the penitentiaries, I always looked upon the hospitals with suspicion and gave them a wide berth.

In 1916 we visited Stillwater, Minn., and as I had met the warden of the penitentiary there, he drove up to the ticket wagon after me and invited me to ride down with him to show me through the prison. This I did, and he finally landed me in the library room where he introduced me to Cole Younger, one of the notorious Jesse James' band, and another life prisoner, who were the librarians.

At this time the warden was called away on other business and said I could remain with the two boys and he would return in a few minutes. It was almost an hour before he returned and as my time was up I had to go.

I bade my newly made friends good-bye and told them of the wonderful hour's visit I had had with them. I remarked to them upon leaving that my only regret was I could not take them with me.

Praise for Hospital
This is the same feeling I had when I left Mercy hospital here, February 6, after recovering from the wonderful operation which restored my sight. When my first visit to a hospital was over, I left with a remarkable change of heart. I was located in the fourth floor of the new building which had five nurses, all of whom visited me every day to cheer me up. And as Nurse Mary Stutz had charge of me, my recovery was assured from the start.

City Now Advanced
The town has moved ahead the last six years, I noted upon my release from the hospital. One change that stands out prominently is the new color of the Myers hotel, quite a different appearance from what it was when I had last seen it.

Another thing that impressed me was the few yards that it takes to make a girl's dress nowadays. An other was the new style of hosiery that put me in mind of the kind mother used to knit for my sisters—they were so different. Now don't get me wrong, girls didn't expect to come back and find the world as I had left it. I knew it was going to move on even though I was out of the ranks. And this brings to my mind the old saying that "you can't keep a station on a railroad." If you'll stand down in the hall and make room for one more I'll be only too glad to join you, as I well know this old world has no room for back numbers.

His Show on the Streets
Jim Zanias has been after me to come up and see his show at the Apollo theater but I've been too busy watching the show on the streets. I've assured him, however, I'll get to him later.

I remember back in 1916 when Karate Brothers came to Janesville with a company of 52 people and presented the wonderful production, "The Black Crook," for two solid weeks. You could count the women who saw the show here, on your thumbs. They simply wouldn't go—the dresses of the chorus were too short! But if they were to return today with the same show, I think they might get a chorus of 1,000 right here in Janesville, with but little change in the wardrobe. But as my business was such for many years that I got used to looking at short skirts, it's not much of a novelty to me.

Visits Samson Plant
I have taken in the wonderful Samson buildings, have seen the scores of new and beautiful houses, and I had been set down in one of these new districts, with my eyesight restored. It would have been difficult for me to have found my way home. But the greatest change of all, to me, is at the old Burr Robbins farm where I put in my first five years in the show business. At that time his winter quarters occupied 116 acres, where the Hough Shale, the canning factory, and the Samson plant are now located.

Since regaining my eyesight, the wonderful reception I have received from old friends leads me to believe that I am either welcome back, or else am getting a terrible kidding.

One thing that will certainly interest me the coming summer will be the harness races which have always been my choice of sports. I'm going to try and make up for lost time the last six years.

When I get a little more sure of my step, the first place I intend to visit is the hospital as I was taken there blind and came away from it blindfolded. I want to take a look at my wonderful nurse and Sister Vincent and several others who were so kind to me when I needed a friend.

MR. FARMER—Get out your pencil and paper, for down these things around the farm you have been thinking of selling and mail, send or bring it to the Gazette for tomorrow's "Farmers' Exchange." You list the stock, etc.—we'll write the advertisement.

WISCONSIN TOBACCO MARKET.
Edgerton.—The Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter Friday says: "The Leaf Tobacco company sent its men into the field again last week to buy binders. The sections from Colesville to Dodgeville were visited and the firm got its quota. The price ranged between 7 and 10 cents. Chas. Sweetney, a buyer for the firm, said that he also picked some binders during the same week, while others have worked quietly and bought cautiously. The tobacco continues pulling considerably less all the time, and the crop is gradually dwindling."

"In the northern counties, especially in the Winnebago section where quite a little tobacco is yet left, several buyers have been working to find binders. The feeling prevails that better times are coming and that it is not going to be a worry to over tobacco buyers."

"Unsold 1920 is sought, both the remnant in bundles and the packings in the hands of farmers. To state that there is a scarcity which is forcing prices up is not correct, but there is a seemingly a wide awake interest in the left over goods of last year."

"The estimated remnant of 1921 is variously placed by men who have kept in close touch with the movement of the year's stock, as representing anything between 20 and 25 per cent. At 20 per cent there is still 12 million pounds of 1921 left in the hands of the growers. With scattered crops of 1921, quite a chunk of 1920 and 1921, the Wisconsin tobacco growers are holding more than a million dollars' worth of leaf yet to be disposed of, figured at prevailing first hand prices."

"As the buying progresses and tobacco leaves come in, a feeling is growing among the tobacco men, growers and packers that they are gradually righting themselves and business is going back on the old track of stability, promising more secure traveling than we have had in the past."

During the first 27 days of March 1922, 160 cars of bundles were received, 50 cars shipped out, 43 cars of cases moved out of storage. This, of course, does not account for any of the heavy deliveries during the month of tobacco by team and truck."

RARE BIRDS DRAWN INTO SANCTUARIES

Texas Reserves Are Haven for Unusual Feathered Tribes.

Brownsville, Tex.—Texas' bird sanctuaries, set aside by the legislature in Cameron and Kleberg counties, bid fair to become world renowned among naturalists inasmuch as one species that exists in no other part of the United States and several species that are very scarce, have been found there.

J. Gilbert Pearson, president of the National Association of Audubon Societies visited the sanctuaries recently. The "bird cities" are located on Green Island, on North and South Bird Island and on the Three Islands—all small bodies of land in the Laguna Madre.

Wild Birds Tame.
Among the birds that seek refuge on these islands are blue birds, teal, mallards, red heads and canvas backs. The wild birds, according to Mr. Pearson, apparently realize that they are safe on their reservation, for they remain unafraid and unfrightened by visitors or noises that otherwise would frighten them away.

Game birds not found elsewhere in the United States live on this section. The islands are distant from human habitation and rarely are visited by hunters. There are no predatory animals on the islands to destroy the eggs.

Green Island of high tide has not more than 12 acres of ground and 30 to 40 acres at low tide. It is about 30 miles south of Corpus Christi and North and South Bird Island are to the south.

Lensed to Society.
There is a large number of royal tern and laughing gulls on Green Island and a number of brown pelicans on South Bird Island, according to visitors. Other birds on South Island include Ward's heron, Red-tail egret, Louisiana heron and Great Egret.

On North Bird Island, Mr. Pearson found white pelicans, a bird he said the Audubon societies wanted to save, and several varieties of falcons, which he said were found no place elsewhere in the United States. The chadcalaca, resembling a chicken and a member of the Phasianidae family, is another bird found on the reservation.

The islands are leased to the National Association of Audubon Societies for the purpose of protecting and conserving the birds.

Editor of Gazette:

Why do the Citizen's committee in their advertisements persist in bringing forward the argument that some one must be brought in from out of town as city manager, if the plan carries. There is nothing in the law to prevent a local man from being hired for that position, if he is capable, and the board of directors think that he can measure up to the high standard of training required for the place. And I venture to predict that some of the highly efficient men brought here by the big corporations will apply for the job if it comes to the point where the board advertises for men to fill the position. Does the school board limit their choice to a local man when they are looking for a superintendent of schools, or do they and someone best fitted for the work by training and experience, without regard to other qualifications? Does the library board restrict their choice of applicants for a librarian to those born and trained in the city, or can they choose from those who apply for the position one who seems the best fitted?

In the statement made in the Thursday advertisement where it says that no successful business corporation would employ a total stranger to run its business, why not stick to facts for that is just exactly what they do. It is rare for a man of small education to rise from the ranks to a position of trust and responsibility in a big business. They limit their choice of applicants for men for these positions, who have had expert experience and special training along these lines. Will the stockholders and directors of our old Janesville Machine company please go back in their memories to the time when they brought Mr. Milliken to the city and put the organization or its feet on a paying basis. Mr. Milliken was a total stranger to the city and to the company, at least made good, where a local man, linked up with old time traditions, might have

CURED BY A NATIVE HERB

On board a vessel bound for India recently a man was bitten by poisonous reptile; both the ship doctor and a famous surgeon failed to control the poison fast spreading through his system.

In a day the vessel reached port. An Indian medicine man was sent for, who produced a native herb, which quickly allayed the poison and the man's life was saved.

Roots and herbs are nature's assistants in combating disease. That well-known medicine for ailments peculiar to women, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is prepared from roots and herbs, possessing medicinal properties of great value in the treatment of such ailments.

This is proved by the letters of recommendation we are continually publishing in this paper.

You Can't Make Family Man of Rich Youth," Actress Asserts

Mrs. Florence Huber Manville.

Pittsburgh—Can the butterfly show-girl, who fills into marriage with the sedition of a wealthy family hope to hold her husband's love by making a home for him?

"No," is the belief of Mrs. Florence Manville, former Broadway chorus girl, whose husband, Thomas Franklin Manville, Jr., temperamental son of the asbestos millionaire, has left her and gone back to his family.

She has tried ten years to make a success of the marriage into which she went so lightly, and her path has led through hardship, deprivation, squalor and disillusionment.

Now she has begun proceedings in the courts, and a master who has conducted a preliminary hearing has just recommended that the courts grant her a divorce.

The final rift is said to have occurred when she remonstrated with him for his friendship with other women. He is supposed to have replied:

"If I can't run around and do as I please I won't live with you any longer!"

Stormy Romance

Four or five separations and consequent reconciliations mark the stormy romance of the young heir to his father's reputed $30,000,000 and his show-girl mate. But this time, she declares, there will be no reconciliation.

"I did not marry Tommy for money, but love. And in the entire ten years of our married life that is all I had to sustain me and keep me his wife—my love for him. When his father offered me a fortune if I would leave him I spurned the offer to live a pauper's life with him on a salary of $15 a week."

"I followed him from Riverside Drive, New York, into a meanly furnished and located apartment when we were but a few months married, and his father refused to help him. And I have stuck by him faithfully ever since. I have nursed him through illness, and have forgiven him and become reconciled with him time and again—but now I am through."

Love at Sight

The Manville, Jr. romance began in June, 1911, when "Tommy," then a boy of eighteen, and his mother attended a New York show. In a box adjoining that in which they sat the youth discerned Miss Florence Huber, a pretty, popular showgirl frequently seen in Broadway choruses.

It was a "long-distance" love at first sight. The next morning he called on her in the evening he took her out to dinner, and the following morning he proposed marriage.

Her answer was a laugh. But the same afternoon he called her up and renewed his plea. He kept renewing it for five days, and finally persistence told. On the fifth day Miss Huber capitulated to the lad who could woo so ardently and winsomely.

Meanwhile a "private tip" and informed Manville, the elder, that sonny had shipped to London to marry an English actress. Alarmed at the report, he packed a grip and boarded the first boat for Liverpool. It was when he had

Place Service Ahead of Money, Scribner's Plea

By HAZEL LAWRENCE.

Evansville, Ind., Graduate.

There are amateurs and there are professionals in all kinds of work and professions, and people are likely to confuse the primary purpose of education with its secondary purpose, said Rev. Frank J. Scribner, of the Congregational church, in his talk on "Education for Character," at the training school, Thursday.

The professional baseball players have brought out this fact in the last year by their attitude toward the game, he said. They forget the primary purpose, which is exercise. All professional people are facing the same temptation. Of course the professional people follow their profession as a means of livelihood, but that should be a secondary purpose if the work is to be most worth while. The real purpose of the teaching profession is the training and building of character.

In each day of a professional worker's life he performs certain tasks, and if he does these well every day he is apt to think he is succeeding. But, we may be doing the detailed duties of the daily task with religious exactness, and still be failing in the greater service which our daily task is designed to render in the world. We are not succeeding in our profession unless the people whom we deal with are growing honest and kinder all the time.

"We should make education an asset, and we can do this by remembering that 'Goodness without education is powerless for good, but education without goodness is powerful only for evil.'"

The teacher has an opportunity of teaching honesty when he teaches elementary arithmetic, for example. He should teach the 15 or 20 cts. in a pound, 60 minutes in an hour, and 100 cents in a dollar, and teach them in such a way that pupils when they grow up will not be trying to sell less than 15 ounces for a pound, giving less than 60 minutes for an hour, or trying to get more or give less than 100 cents worth on a dollar. History is essentially a study of human conduct, literature affords a study of ideal characters, and both are large influences in the molding of human character.

So it is with everything in a profession. A minister's duty does not stop until he has touched each individual as well as may be, and neither does the teacher's influence stop short of actually changing the lives of boys and girls.

Mr. Scribner's talk developed the idea that all education is essentially for character, and further, that all of us are engaged in the business of education. No teacher can really be a good teacher unless she sees the possibilities of character development in every boy and girl under her charge.

Enemies in Court, Friends Out—That's the Lawyer of It

Continued wrangling and sharp exchange between the attorneys marked the Soulmans-Grundy tobacco trial in Rock county circuit court recently. The average spectator attending a trial is convinced the attorneys trying the litigation are bitter enemies. It would seem that the table separating them was hardly enough to keep them from climbing over for a fist fight.

The judge permitted each other with all the hostility they can command. They make decidedly uncomplimentary remarks about each other. They employ all the biting sarcasm at their command. Each real or pseudo witty remark is followed by a comment. One would almost expect that if the judge turned his back they were going to hit each other with the law books or during the more heated moments wrench a leg off the table or chair and provide a sensation. They smile and make feigning expressions when testimony is being introduced.

It's All Camouflage.

But fear not. It is all camouflage—a part of the game. The biggest part of it might be called "bunk" simply for effect. The attorneys like to make a witty comment and then look at the jury—highly pleased with themselves until they are the victims of a caustic remark. Then it is "not so good."

Once the trial is stopped and the attorneys move out of the court room—they don't continue their arguing—not a bit of it. Rather the change is remarkable.

They borrow each other's cigars and cigarettes, a test of real friendship. They are more likely to be talking about a new joke they heard or "where do we eat?" They exchange humorous remarks about each other.

The speaker illustrated his talk with several concrete cases out of real life, and in the event the jury is out for a verdict the rival attorneys—who in court appear willing to inflict physical pain and punishment on each other—may be found enjoying a friendly game of cards.

In court they are all bristling and fighting for the advantage—but not out of court.

Examination Is Art.

Examination of witnesses is an art of the profession. The attorney must always think about three jumps ahead of his question. He is aiming at a target and building up to a climax question. And sometimes the witness does not say what the attorneys expect. Then, instead of a bulls-eye—they miss.

Appearance in court is part of the game and an important part. They like to appear hostile—but they are not.

When Attorney C. E. Pierce was cross-examining Samuel Grundy he snapped out his questions in a brusque manner. He happened to turn his head so as to face Otto Oestreich, rival attorney, on the other side of the table.

"Don't bark at me!" snapped Oestreich as Pierce asked a sharp question.

"I won't—I am careful what I bite," was the reply and the two staged a battle of will. The court stopped them.

The judge seldom lets the attorneys go in the wordy battle for more than an exchange of "verbal blows," for he knows it is the "camouflage of the trial game."

City Begins Enforcement of Milk Law

With all equipment for testing milk installed in an office on the second floor of the city hall, Dr. Leigh J. Woodworth, city sanitary inspector, has started work as provided by the ordinance passed last year. Two dairies will be recommended for license to retail milk in Janesville as soon as they file the necessary data required by Dr. Woodworth, who has found the milk up to requirements in regard to butterfat and sediment.

Milk dealers in Janesville are urged to get in touch with Dr. Woodworth, so he may recommend them to the council for licenses if their milk is found up to the standard.

SEVERAL FINISH SCHOOL.

The second of the three semesters of the vocational school ended last week and a large number who had had birthdays since the first period ended, were released. The young women of the home art classes who finished their work were entertained with a noon luncheon last Friday under the direction of Miss Nell Cronin.
